Synopsis

HOUND OF THE BASKERVILLES

The story is based upon the existence of a mysterious dog which from time to time throughout the lives of various generations of the Baskerville family of England appeared and heralded the death of some member of the family. Whenever the ominous hound was seen slinking along the moors in the vicinity of Baskerville Castle, the Baskervilles, one of England's ancient families, resigned themselves to their fate. It was Sherlock Holmes assignment to the cast of ferreting out the truth about this strange animal that lends great interest to the story. At first the butler in the home of the Baskervilles is suspected of plotting against the family but when Sherlock Holmes takes up the trail he follows it to a speedy solution. It would be manifestly unfair to reveal the rest of the plot as the element of mystery, which the story maintains throughout, depends upon certain details of the narrative which must, therefore be concealed.
